Dunu Roy

A leading social activist, political ecologist, social scientist, and Director of the Hazards Centre, New Delhi, Anubrotto Kumar (Dunu) Roy received his early education at Montessori and Doon School, Dehradun and obtained B.Tech (1967) and M.Tech. (1969) degrees in Chemical Engineering from IIT Bombay. He worked for over four decades in both rural and urban scenarios on land and water management, secure settlements, safe work, environmental planning, leadership training, and pollution control.

Dunu Roy gave up his career as a Chemical Engineer and joined FREA (Front for Rapid Economic Advancement) on a meagre salary with an objective to set up a strong institution that would provide professional assistance to aspiring entrepreneurs. He was associated with FREA for four years and worked with Gandhian organizations, various institutions and independent groups spread over fourteen locations.

In 1975, Dunu Roy along with like-minded friends, started an experiment named Kaam aur Kamai in Shahdol district of Madhya Pradesh and performed significant social work while earning a living within the community. The outcome was the Vidushak Karkhana, a small workshop to repair rural machinery. The Vidushak Karkhana slowly evolved into the Shahdol Group, focussing on Environmental Planning and Environmental Education. The Shahdol Group became a centre attracting students, academics, activists, journalists not only from India but also from all over the world.

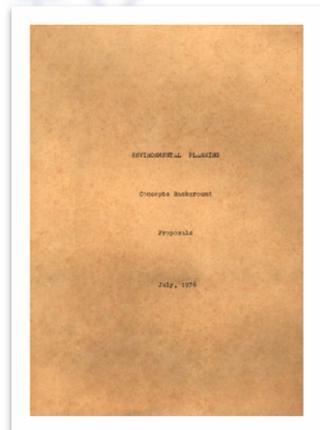

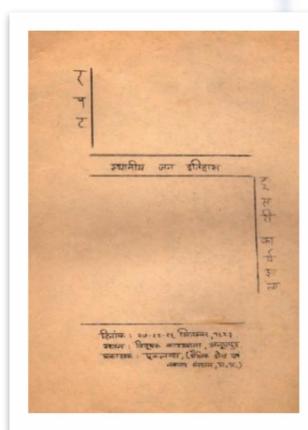

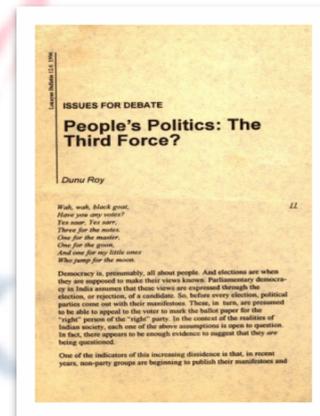

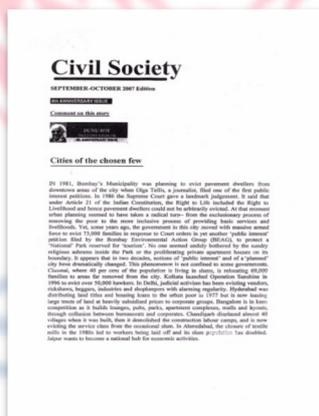

After being associated with Shahdol group for two decades, Dunu Roy moved to Delhi in mid 1990s. He joined the World Wide Fund for Nature, New Delhi and created a cell to monitor the effects of pollution. In 1997, Dunu Roy established Hazards Centre at New Delhi, a research group for the specific purpose of providing professional services to community and labour organisations in identifying, understanding, and combating the hazards that beset them. The organisation assists urban and rural communities in research and action programs related to shelter, livelihood, services, governance, etc.

Dunu Roy served as the Dean of Research at the People Science Institute, Dehradun. He is also a consultant to various agencies in the private and public sector on resource management, environment, biodiversity and disaster preparedness in several states of India.

For his outstanding work in spreading environmental awareness and rural development, he received the Distinguished Alumnus Award from IIT Bombay in the years 1975 and 2000. The Satyendra K. Dubey Memorial award was also conferred upon him by IIT Kanpur in 2008.

In 2013, Dunu Roy was engaged by the World Bank for inspection of the 444 MW Vishnugad-Pipalkoti hydro-electric project in Uttarakhand and its ecological and human concerns.

Dunu Roy has contributed various articles to the print and electronic media on environmental issues, social development, science and society, labour law, housing, etc. Some of his publications include Vampanth Mein Roti Aur Beti Ka Sawaal, and Communist Party Aur Samuh.
