Online College Application Writing Workshop

July 5 – July 7, 2021

Conducted by: Naincy, Maitreyee Shilpa Kishor

As part of its Online Summer School, CWC invites applications for a workshop on writing college applications. This 3-day intensive workshop will focus on developing and perfecting application essays for postgraduate studies including statements of purpose, scholarship essays, resumes and professional emails. Students and young professionals interested in applying to postgraduate programs are both welcome. Preference will be given to those candidates who have narrowed down their search to a set of universities/programs or have rough drafts of application essays. Selected candidates will work closely with CWC tutors through presentations and writing groups, and get personalised feedback on how to improve their draft essays.

Medium of instruction: English

Eligibility: Any student/ professional interested in applying for courses and scholarships abroad.

Deadline- June 10, 2021 (5PM)

The application should include:

1. Your CV
2. Draft of any application essay. This can include a rough draft or points you have brainstormed/written for your statement of purpose, personal statement, scholarship essay, or letter of motivation
3. A paragraph of not more than 200 words outlining the programs, level of education (Master's/PhD), subjects and/or universities to which you intend to apply.

INSTRUCTIONS TO APPLY:

1. Visit <https://apply.ashoka.edu.in/home.aspx> and select your preferred CWC Summer School.
2. Register for an account and submit your application.

Online Short Story Writing Workshop

July 26 – July 30, 2021

Conducted by: Apoorva Saini, Uday Kanungo

CWC invites applications for a 5-day short story writing workshop as part of its online summer school in 2021. This workshop will be held online, and will aim towards working on style, structure, voice, and other formal components of short story writing. Throughout the sessions, participants will be familiarized with short stories as well as non-fiction from a diverse range of authors and cultural backgrounds. Apart from this, the workshop will also heavily focus on interactive group activities, writing prompts, and intensive peer-review critique sessions so as to test the participants' creative output with other readers as well as to foster the ability to read critically. Finally, the workshop will also offer exclusive one-on-one sessions for candidates with the tutors, and will aim to build a community of writers who can exchange their work in the future.

Medium of instruction: English

Eligibility: Open to all Undergraduate students across India

Deadline- June 21, 2021

The application should include:

- One unpublished short story (of 1000-5000 words)
- A one-page CV/Resume
- An SOP indicating your approach to writing, and what do you expect from the workshop.

INSTRUCTIONS TO APPLY:

1. Visit <https://apply.ashoka.edu.in/home.aspx> and select your preferred CWC Summer School.
2. Register for an account and submit your application.
3. You can separately apply to more than one summer school.
