About Department/Centre:

CSBC was founded by and is part of Ashoka University, India's leading liberal arts university, and is supported by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation. Since our inception, we have been dedicated to expanding and sharing knowledge and underscoring behavioural science's role in building public policies that directly impact society. <https://csbc.org.in/>

We seek to establish a globally reputed Indian institution, driving behavioural change measures for people and communities in need. We advance the science and practice of behaviour changes, harnessing cross-disciplinary expertise to improve outcomes in nutrition, sanitation, maternal health, family planning, and financial services through a mix of behavioural change programmes, foundational research and capability building.

Project context: Researchers from CSBC and University of Chicago run many online experiments to gain insights on people's decision making among students through SONA system.

Overview of the role: This is a full-time internship position for a period of 2 months with the possibility of extension depending on requirement and studies timeline. The intern would be responsible for setting up appointments with respondents for them to be a part of the experiment.
